VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Volunteer parishioners are the mainstay in keeping STJB Parish vibrant, active, and well maintained. All areas of parish life need people to step up and share the workload. The more volunteers who agree to work in each area, the better the workload is shared. As COVID restrictions are increasingly removed, and more people attend liturgical, social, and other events at the church, the volunteer pool must grow. If you would like to volunteer for groundskeeping, ushering at Sunday divine liturgy, or gardening, please phone the parish office at 61-723-1673 or email pastor-stjb-shrine@bellnet.ca

Status Update on Parish Gardens:

In order to maintain the beauty of the gardens around the church and residence, our volunteer gardeners and groundskeepers are busy streamlining and modifying them. The goal is to reduce maintenance and watering needs and prepare areas for mulching sodding and transplanting while retaining the gardens' beauty.

We hope you will volunteer to help out!

Progress is being made in clearing out invasive growth to clear future paths and transplanting existing clumps of irises, daisies and other plants to enhance new spots. We thank the long-time gardening regulars such as Sally Tchorewski, Chrystia & Zenon Humeniuk, Maria Lachowich, Rosaleen Fedak, Christina Thomspson, Mary Romanow and John Chychrun, and more recently, Oksana Kuteyko, Mirosława Bilaniuk, Maria Kira, and Luba Mycio-Mommers. The groundskeeping team includes Peter Semeniuk, Mike Pawlowsky, Rocco Kwiatkowski and Paul Kozak.

Collectively this group of volunteers takes care of the church grounds and garden spots such as the T. Shevchenko monument, the church front entrance, the parking, patio and garage sides plus the fence line. For more information or to add your name as a volunteer, please phone the parish office at 613-723-1673 or email pastor-stjb-shrine@bellnet.ca.
